

Kirsch, J.-J., Sermon, J., Jonker, M., Asbeck, T., Gossner, M. M., Petermann, J. S. and Basile, M.
2021. The use of water-filled tree holes by vertebrates in temperate forests. – Wildlife Biology 2021: wlb.00786

Supplementary material

Appendix 1. A bat found in our study, representing probably the first evidence of use of temperate WHs by this taxon

Appendix 2. Drinking from the WHs

Appendix 3. Feeding in the WHs (either larvae or plant seeds)

Appendix 4. Bathing in the WHs

Appendix 5. Pine martens